SANDEL MEDICAL INDUSTRIES, LLC LAUNCHES NEW INTERACTIVE WEBSITE

CHATSWORTH, CA – Sandel Medical Industries is announcing the launch of its new, re-designed and interactive website. Sandel's new site encompasses an updated contemporary look while providing users with current product news, upcoming events, and a shopping cart function for online product ordering.

One of the many customer-driven requests has been Sandel's new extensive Education & Resources page. It provides up-to-date industry news, resource links, and interviews pertaining to Engineered Sharps Injury Prevention (ESIP), Ergonomic Workplace Safety, Correct Medication Labeling, TIME OUT, and other medical related topics.

Sandel continues to rely on the expertise of nurses and healthcare professionals to help guide their efforts. The new site offers a place to submit product ideas as they relate to unsolved issues in the areas of patient and staff safety.

Sandel's new website supports its ongoing commitment to safety in the medical industry and provides a place for healthcare professionals to learn and contribute to the safety protocol of their facility. Sandel continues to offer healthcare professionals the opportunity to submit ideas

Ensuring safety requires more than adopting best practices and procedures. Sandel Medical Industries offers tangible solutions for improving the hospital work environment. Sandel's product solutions address issues surrounding Engineered Sharps Injury Prevention (ESIP), Ergonomics, TIME OUT[®] and Correct Medication Labeling.

To visit Sandel's new website go to www.sandelmedical.com.

In the healthcare industry, the color orange is a trademark of Sandel Medical Industries, LLC. TIME OUT[®] is a registered trademark of Sandel Medical Industries, LLC.
