

Letter from the President: CTU Virtual Campus Wins Prestigious Technology Award

June 4, 2009

We are proud to announce that the CTU Virtual Campus, our innovative, student-focused online learning community, was recognized this week as “best of the best” in the Computerworld Honors Program, which acknowledges companies and individuals each year for outstanding new uses of technology that benefit society.

The Virtual Campus has made a positive impact on the lives of tens of thousands of career-focused CTU students since 2001 and takes the educational experience to new heights by delivering an online learning community where students can access a full range of services.

Whether deployed abroad to serve our country, a working parent or hard-pressed to fit a traditional education into a busy schedule, the Virtual Campus enables students to experience a rich, engaging social and educational atmosphere where they can enjoy the accessibility, flexibility and convenience of distance learning at a time and place that is right for them.

We are honored to be recognized by this worthwhile award that for the past 21 years has identified the most innovative organizations and people who use technology to promote positive social, economic and educational change.

To learn more about this prestigious honor, please visit our parent company website at: <http://www.careered.com>. To learn more about the CTU Virtual Campus visit please click here.

Dr. Wallace Pond
CEO and president of Colorado Technical University