Perioperative Action Bundle: Prevention and Reduction of Wrong-Patient, Wrong-Site, Wrong-Procedure Events

Articles and Websites

Chinthapalli K. Checklists can reduce errors in intraoperative emergencies by 75%, says expert. BMJ. 2013;346:f2767.

Cobb TK. Wrong site surgery—where are we and what is the next step? Hand (N Y). 2012;7(2):229-232.

Eye care: percentage of patients aged 18 years and older with a diagnosis of uncomplicated cataract who had cataract surgery and had any of a specified list of surgical procedures in the 30 days following cataract surgery which would indicate the occurrence of any of the following major complications: retained nuclear fragments, endophthalmitis, dislocated or wrong power IOL, retinal detachment, or wound dehiscence. US Department of Health & Human Services Agency for Healthcare Research and

Johnson HL, Kimsey D. Patient safety: Break the silence. AORN. 2012;95(5):591-601..

Sentinel event data summary. The Joint Commission.

Time out remains key weapon in fight against wrong-site surgeries. AORN J. 2013;97(6):C5-6.

