

Jaimeson Hatch, MSN, RN, CNOR

NOMINATING COMMITTEE (THREE TO BE ELECTED)

Jaimeson Hatch, MSN, RN, CNOR, is an RN first assistant for Hatch Squared Enterprises, LLC, Anchorage, Alaska. She earned an associate degree in nursing from J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College, Richmond, Virginia; a BSN from Liberty University, Lynchburg, Virginia; and an MSN from Chamberlain University, Chicago, Illinois.

Hatch has been a perioperative nurse for 16 years and a member of AORN for 14 years. She is a member of

- eChapter (2016-present)
- the Clinical Nurse Educator Specialty Assembly (2019-present)
- the RNFA Specialty Assembly (2020-present)

She has been a member of

- the Alaska State Chapter (2017-2019)

Hatch has attended AORN Global Surgical Conference & Expo seven times in the past 10 years, five times as a delegate.

Highlights of Hatch's service to AORN include that she is

- a member of the AORN Global Relations Committee (2025-present)
- secretary of eChapter (2024-present)
- advisor for the eChapter Nominating Committee (2024-present)
- moderator facilitator for the eChapter Journal Club (2024-present)

She has been

- chair of the eChapter Nominating Committee (2023-2024)
- co-chair of the eChapter Nominating Committee (2022-2023)
- president of the Alaska State Chapter (2018-2019)
- educator for the Alaska State Chapter (2017-2018)
- session assistant and moderator, AORN Global Surgical Conference & Expo (2019-2023)
- lead educator for Periop 101 (2017-2020)

In her community, Hatch is

- a volunteer for Medical Missions - Adventures in Life (2016-present)
- medical director for Medical Missions - Adventures in Life (2023-present)
- a volunteer for Ushering in the Arts, Alaska Center for the Performing Arts (2023-present)

She has been

- a volunteer organizer for community COVID-19 vaccine (2020-2021)
- a volunteer for the Community Flu Drive, Anchorage, Alaska (2019-2021)

ELECTION STATEMENT

At this moment in time, surrounded by the constantly shifting environments in health care, it would be easier to see advocacy, encouragement, education, and leadership as secondary roles marked under “if we have time.” It would be much easier to keep one’s head down, do what’s asked, clock out at the end of shift, and consider the job done. However, for most of us, we became nurses to help, to ease suffering, to leave things better than we found them, and to create change in any way we can.

As a member of the Nominating Committee, it will be my privilege to be a part of a group tasked with finding those amazing nurses who want to move the art and science of perioperative nursing forward. Nurses who have led through wins and failures, ease and hardship, excitement and disappointment. Those who have led softly, working behind the scenes without fanfare; those who have led assertively, front and center advocating for change and transformation; and all those in between, all of them wanting great outcomes with safety for their patients and peers. It will be my honor to encourage others to be a part of AORN leadership. To nominate those they feel can fulfill the roles needed, to vote and encourage others to vote, giving a voice to our profession, and to help light the pathway for the future of AORN.