"Excellent speakers and programs with a wide variety of important topics. The ability to connect with perioperative RNs from across the country and the world made for great networking!"

- 2025 Attendee

We're honored to welcome you to the 73rd annual AORN Global Surgical Conference & Expo, taking place April 11-14 2026 in the spirited city of New Orleans, LA. Expect four electric days where perioperative nursing takes center stage.

This year's theme--Lighting the Pathway--is more than a motto. It's the embodiment of AORN's promise to lead the way for every educator, leader, and nurse committed to building the future of perioperative care. Together, we all walk the same path.

What to expect at AORN Expo 2026:

- Earn up to 50 continuing education contact hours (CH), while learning real-world skills that that apply to everyday practice.
- Education that sticks sessions built on polishing your skills and techniques, not just slides.
- Cutting-edge product demos get hands-on with the technology shaping tomorrow's OR.
- Tailored learning tracks for ambulatory care, educators, leadership, students, and more.
- Interactive poster research connect with the creators of cutting-edge evidence-based research and earn CH credits.
- Community in full force—network through parties, mentors, assemblies, and more.

This event draws thousands of perioperative nurses and healthcare professionals, gathering to share their stories, inspire fellow nurses, and advance the profession.

START PLANNING YOUR TRAVEL

NEW ORLEANS, LA

ARRIVE FRIDAY, APRIL 10

Arrive in the Big Easy and collect your conference materials on Friday afternoon. You'll have the chance to check out the area and connect with other attendees. Education sessions begin Saturday morning, April 11.

DEPART WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 15

Plan to stay through Tuesday's full day of programming and your final chance for interactive learning in the Expo Hall. Don't forget to exchange contact information with your new perioperative friends, ensuring you can stay connected until you see each other again in 2027.

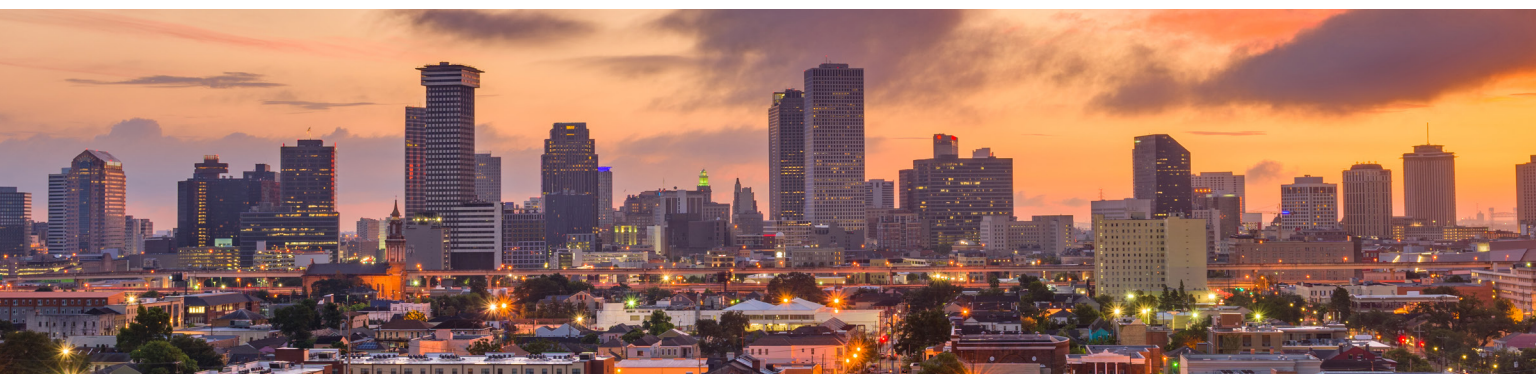

LIGHTING THE PATHWAY

AORN President 2025-2026

Darlene Murdock, MSN, BBA, RN, CNOR, CSSM

Welcome to the AORN Global Surgical Conference and Expo 2026—the world's largest gathering of perioperative nurses and surgical trade show. This year's theme, Lighting the Pathway, honors the legacy of Florence Nightingale. Carrying her lamp, she brought care and comfort to wounded soldiers, and the image of her walking through the wards remains a powerful symbol of hope and healing. It represents the enduring presence and unwavering dedication of nurses. At Expo 2026, perioperative nurses will carry forward Nightingale's legacy, lighting the pathway with care, compassion, hope, and guidance. Together, we'll showcase the vital role of perioperative nursing in healthcare through insightful presentations and hands-on learning opportunities designed to strengthen practice and improve patient outcomes. Thank you for joining us on this remarkable perioperative journey as we lead change, drive innovation, and shape the future of perioperative nursing for better patient outcomes.

Experience AORN Expo and Discover the Allure of New Orleans

New Orleans doesn't whisper its history; it proudly sings it from wrought-iron balconies and jazz-filled streets. But there's more to this city than bayou legends and second lines. You'll find world-class art, unapologetically good food, skyline views, and cobblestone charm. A place where the past fuels what's next.

During your trip, don't forget to:

- Visit Frenchmen Street — Live music with no cover charge, no pretense, and no skipped heartbeats.
- Taste Café du Monde — Order the beignets. Yes, even if it's your second time that day.
- Stroll the Garden District — Take a stroll among oak-lined streets and mansions wrapped in iron lace.
- Take a Swamp tour — Meet the local gators. Just don't try to pet them.
- Explore the National WWII Museum — One of the most powerful museum experiences of the Great War in the country.
- Enjoy a Classic Sazerac — Bourbon Street is for stories. This is for sipping.

Lighting the PATHWAY in New Orleans

CONFIDENCE IS NOT ROCKET SCIENCE: HOW TO OVERCOME THE SELF-DOUBT OF IMPOSTER SYNDROME

Keynote Speaker: Maureen Zappala

Maureen Zappala spent more than 13 years at NASA's Lewis Research Center in Cleveland (now Glenn Research Center) conducting aircraft engine research. Yes, she's a rocket scientist! She became the youngest and first female manager of NASA's Propulsion Systems Laboratory, a jet engine test facility. Despite stellar credentials and impressive accomplishments at NASA, the annoying Impostor Syndrome was her constant companion, causing her to think, "I'm not as smart as everyone thinks I am, and they're going to figure it out!" This led to a passion for showing others how to silence those destructive voices that hinder success and create secret shame. Maureen teaches others to match their confidence to their competence so they have more influence.

HIGHLIGHTED SESSION

From Comfort to Courage: Leading the Future of Healthcare

PRESENTER:

Sylvain Trepanier, DNP, RN, CENP, FAONL, FAAN
Providence System Chief Nurse Executive

In the fast-paced, high-stakes environment of the operating room, standing still is not a safe choice—it's the greatest risk of all. The challenges we face—emerging technologies, workforce pressures, rising patient expectations, and complex systems—demand bold action and courageous leadership. This presentation will explore why the status quo is no longer sustainable and how perioperative nurses can lead the charge in driving meaningful change.

Through compelling stories, real-world examples, and practical strategies, we will examine how courage, conviction, and a willingness to embrace uncertainty can transform care delivery and improve patient outcomes.

Participants will be challenged to look beyond familiar routines, confront barriers to progress, and step into their role as change agents. By the end of this session, attendees will not only understand why change is imperative but will leave inspired and empowered to champion innovation and lead their teams through the complex transitions ahead.

WHERE BOLD IDEAS TAKE THE MIC

Meet Our Keynote Speakers

Get ready to be inspired, uplifted, and energized by our lineup of incredible keynote speakers! These powerful motivators are sure to make you smile, laugh, and leave you feeling ready for whatever comes next.

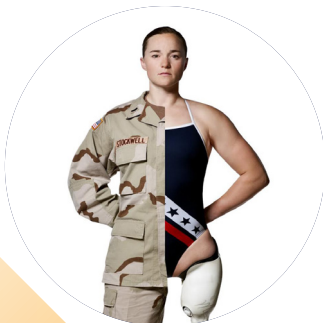

GREGORY OFFNER

Gregory Offner is an award-winning keynote speaker, coach, and former Fortune 100 executive whose high-energy programs blend leadership insights with the showmanship of a world-class dueling pianist. A survivor of multiple vocal surgeries, Greg now helps organizations identify the one change that can change everything—transforming teams through the power of soft skills and performance.

MICHELLE POLER

Michelle Poler is a bestselling author, entrepreneur, and founder of the global Hello Fears movement, which has reached over 70 million people. Known for her viral project 100 Days Without Fear, Michelle helps audiences turn fear into growth and live unapologetically. She has spoken at TEDx, Google, ESPN, Netflix, and more, and her books have been published in seven languages worldwide.

MELISSA STOCKWELL

Decorated U.S. Army veteran and Paralympic medalist, Melissa Stockwell is a Bronze Star and Purple Heart recipient who turned personal tragedy into triumph. The first female American soldier to lose a limb in combat, Melissa became a Paralympic swimmer, three-time Paratriathlon World Champion, and 2016 Paralympic Bronze Medalist. She inspires audiences with her story of resilience, service, and chasing bold goals.
